New-Hampſhire Legiſlature.

June 26, 1804.

The Legiſlature of this ſtate adjourned on Thurſday laſt, to meet again on the third Wedneſday of November next, at Concord. But little buſineſs of importance was tranſacted the preſent ſeſſion. A law, directing that electors of Preſident and Vice-Preſident of the United States ſhould be choſen by a General Ticket, paſſed. The bill, diſtricting the ſtate for the choice of repreſentatives to Congreſs, was returned by the Governor, with objections, as was alſo that for ratifying the propoſed amendment to the conſtitution, and the reſolves complimenting the preſent adminiſtration, publiſhed in our laſt.—Theſe bills are therefore loſt, as two-thirds of both branches of the legiſlature did not appear to ſupport them.

On the reſolves above mentioned, the Yeas and Nays were, Yeas 85—Nays 72.

Governor's Objections.

The governor having received certain reſolutions of the honorable the Senate and Houſe of Repreſentatives, expreſſive of their opinion reſpecting diſorganiſing ſentiments inculcated through the medium of the preſs—congratulating their fellow citizens upon the reſult of certain meaſures of the general government—and declaring their full confidence in the preſent adminiſtration of the general government, and in the juſtice, benevolence and wiſdom, of the Preſident of the United States—returns thoſe reſolutions to the honorable the Senate, in which they originated, with the following obſervations:

If it had been the pleaſure of the legiſlature to have expreſſed the ſentiments contained in thoſe reſolutions, in any other mode than that by bill or reſolves, the opinion of the governor would not have been neceſſary; but the conſtitution having made it his duty to ſign ſuch bills or reſolves as he approves, and to return ſuch as he does not approve, his taſk on this occaſion, however unpleaſant, is unavoidable.

While he declares his readineſs to co-operate with the legiſlature in all conſtitutional meaſures for preventing the licentiouſneſs of the preſs, and is ready to do all in his power for the preſervation of our union, and for ſupporting ſuch meaſures as may be beſt calculated to promote the general welfare; he is compelled to ſay, that if the ſecond of thoſe reſolutions refers to the purchaſe of Louiſiana, he is not ſufficiently informed reſpecting the probable advantages of that purchaſe to enable him to congratulate his fellow citizens thereon: more eſpecially, as it is ſaid to have been purchaſed at great expence. And ſuch has been his opinion reſpecting ſome meaſures of the adminiſtration, that he is not prepared to expreſs that unlimited confidence which the reſolutions ſeem to purport.

Alexandria, July 2.

Captain Carew, of the brig Neptune of this port, in 30 days from Liſbon, came up from his veſſel yeſterday, and has obligingly furniſhed us with the following information:

The American conſul at Liſbon, Mr. Jarvis, had received letters from Mr. Livingſton at Paris, announcing that Bonaparte had been proclaimed emperor of the Gauls, that the French miniſter had received official information of that event, in conſequence of which Liſbon was illuminated, and Te Deum ſung in all the churches, to attend which all the foreign miniſters and conſuls had been invited, and none refuſed except the Engliſh conſul.

A report had prevailed there a few days, ſaid to have been brought by a New England captain, that admiral Nelſon was dead but it had been contradicted.

LEXINGTON, June 19.

A report has been a few days in circulation, and obtained ſome credit, that captains Lewis and Clarke, with their companions, had been fallen upon by the Oſage Indians and put to death, only two men eſcaping. We have the pleaſure to inform our readers that the report is without foundation—that on the 19 ult. capt. Lewis was at St. Louis, and expected to depart that or the ſucceeding day, and was in high ſpirits. The report probably originated from ſome traders on the Miſſourie, and others on the Aus-Are river, having fallen victims to their own imprudence, or the jealouſy of the Indians.

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.

Captain Ells, of the brig Eliza, from Malaga and Gibraltar, arrived at the Lazeratto, informs, that it was reported at Gibraltar, previouſly to his ſailing, that the Prince of peace was diſplaced, and the count de Florida Blanca reeſtabliſhed at the court of Madrid.—The politicians at Gibraltar were anxiouſly awaiting the confirmation of that important intelligence.

NEW YORK, June 29.

FROM SURINAM.

A reſpectable commercial friend has favored the office of the Morning Chronicle, with the following important official paper, relative to the trade of the United States with the colony of Surinam.

PROCLAMATION.

By his Excellency Major General Sir Charles Green, commanding His Majesty's land forces, and Governor of the colony of Surinam, &c. &c.

WHEREAS it is expedient that regulations ſhould be eſtabliſhed reſpecting the trade to and from this colony in neutral veſſels until his majeſty's pleaſure ſhould be known, I have thought fit by virtue of the power and authority in me veſted, to publiſh this my proclamation hereby declaring.

That it ſhall and may be lawful, for the ſpace of four months from and after the publication hereof, to import into this colony in American or neutral bottoms belonging to the ſubjects of any power in amity with his majeſty, Tobacco, pitch, tar, turpentine, hemp, flax, maſts, yards, bowſprit ſtaves, heading, boards, timber, ſhingles and lumber of any ſort, horſes, cattle, ſheep, hogs, Poultry, and live ſtock of any ſort, bread, biſcuit, flour, peas, beans, potatoes, wheat, rice, oats, barley and grain of any ſort, ſalted beef, pork, butter, pickled and dry ſalt fiſh from the American dominions of ſuch neutral powers aforeſaid, upon payment of a duty of 4 per cent, as well upon the commodities here in before ſpecified, as upon ſuch as ſhall hereafter be found neceſſary to be permitted upon emergency or otherwiſe.

And whereas it is alſo expedient to allow ſuch American and other neutral veſſels as are permitted to trade under this proclamation to export certain articles the produce of the colony in return, but which ſhall not exceed in value the amount of the cargoes ſo imported. I do therefore declare that it ſhall and may be lawful, to permit the exportation of ſugar, rum, and molaſſes in ſuch American and other neutral veſſels as aforeſaid, upon payment of a duty of 8 per cent upon ſuch commodities as ſhall be ſo exported.

And I do hereby direct that the duties herein impoſed upon imports and exports, ſhall be levied and collected according to the regulations exiſting on that head previous to the late ſurrender of the colony to his majeſty's arms.

Done at Paramaribo in the colony of Surinam, this 29th day of May 1804, and in the 44 year of his majeſty's reign.

CHARLES GREEN.
Governor.

R. ROSS, Sec'ty.
God ſave the king.

PUBLICATION.

By his Excellency Major General Sir Charles Green, commanding his majeſty's land forces, and governor general of the Colony of Surinam and its dependencies, &c.

Whereas his majeſty has been pleaſed to direct that I ſhould aſſume the civil government of the colony of Surinam until his majeſty's further pleaſure ſhall be known.

I do therefore by theſe preſents notify to all perſons concerned that they are in future to conſider me as his majeſty's legal repreſentative in this colony.

And Whereas I now deem it expedient to ſignify his majeſty's royal will that the laws, cuſtoms and uſages as they exiſted at the period of the colony, being given up to the Batavian government are to remain in force until the king's further pleaſure ſhall be known. I do hereby direct that the conſtituted powers, viz. the court of policys and criminal juſtice, the commiſſariat-court, the curatecle chamber, the commiſſaries of roads and commons, the jewiſh orphan chambers, and all other perſons holding public offices, are to continue to diſcharge the ſeveral duties attached to their ſituations for the due performance of which they ſhall be held reſponſible until further regulations take place.

I have alſo thought proper to direct that all the perſons included in the above deſcription are to appear at the government houſe to-morrow morning at nine o'clock, to take oath of allegiance to his Britannic majeſty; and in order that theſe preſents may come to the knowledge of thoſe concerned, we do direct the ſame to be publiſhed and affixed, as is cuſtomary.

Given at Paramaribo the 8th June, and the 44th year of his majeſtys reign.

CHARLES GREEN.
Major General.

By his excellency's command,
R. ROSS, Sec'ty.
