

AN ILLUSTRATED NEWSPAPER IN THE PORTUGUESE LANGUAGE.

PUBLISHED MONTHLY, IN NEW YORK, ON THE EVE OF THE SAILING OF THE REGULAR MONTHLY PACKETS OF THE ST. THOMAS AND BRAZIL LINE.

This paper furnishes the countries and the colonies where Portuguese and Spanish are spoken a most thorough digest of the course of events, particularly the political and industrial progress of the United States, describing the peculiar features of American advancement and civilization, as embodied in the Government, and treating the topics of the day in elaborate articles, having in view the object of uniting more closely the existing bonds of a political, commercial and friendly character among the several countries of the Western hemisphere.

O Novo Mundo is an illustrated journal, depicting popular, historical, artistic, and other subjects connected with the events of the day, by engravings executed in the best style of modern art, and is printed with the utmost typographical neatness and skill.

NOTICES OF THE AMERICAN PRESS.

"To the German, French, Italian and Spanish periodicals which are already published in this city must now be added a Portuguese monthly newspaper, O NOVO MUNDO. It is of the size of Harper's Weekly, which has also supplied it with most, if not all, of its illustrations, and these will again be recognized as having originally appeared in The Graphic. When we look at the contents, however, there is visible an absence of padding and a variety of original matter which indicates an earnest purpose in the conductors. This is stated by the editor, Mr. J. C. Rodrigues, to be to help fix the attention of Brazil and, to a certain extent, South America on the affairs of the United States, not by furnishing current news, but by discussing the principles, policy and progress of this Republic. * * * O NOVO MUNDO will advocate emancipation in Brazil, and in fact has an able article on the subject in this its first number, along with others. * * * And there is a well-selected miscellany on the events of the day, and relating to the prosperity of both confi-nents. The book notices are genuine specimens of criticism. * * * Altogether we must pronounce O NOVO MUNDO, from this sample, a very respectable enterprise, abreast of the times, and ably edited. * * * That it will be a valuable medium for spreading still further knowledge in Brazil of the products of American invention and skill, already so popular there, we have no doubt. It will regularly appear on the eve of the sailing of the monthly packets via St. Thomas. Three dollars is the subscription price, and the place of publication 24 Times Building, New York.—The Nation, N. Y.

"The influence of O NOVO MUNDO cannot fail to be in the highest degree salutary in promoting a kindly intercourse with Brazil by making its people acquainted with the resources and progress of the United States."—The Evening Post, N. Y.

"It is one of the handsomest papers published, its illustrations being fine, large and exquisitely printed."—The Boston Post.

NOTICES OF THE BRAZILIAN PRESS.

"We recommend our citizens to subscribe for this publication; they may feel sure that they will thus aid to the success of such a newspaper enterprise, as there is no other in the Portuguese language."—Translated from the Jornal do Recife, Pernambuco, North Brazil.

"All who take any interest at all in the affairs of Brazil should aid to the success of this important journal, which recommends itself not only by its very fine cuts, but principally by its reading matter."—Translated from the Diario de S. Paulo, S. Paulo, South Brazil.

"This enterprise will be the means of making the people of the United States and Brazil better acquainted with each other, connected as they are now by bonds that cannot fail to make them more intimate every day."—Translated from the Jornal do Commercio, the leading daily newspaper in South America.

"This paper deserves a hearty patronage of the Brazilian public; we hope it will succeed."—Translated from the Diario Official do Imperio do Brazil.

Business men desirous of introducing their manufactures to the prosperous countries of the South will find O Novo Mundo
