

13. Col. William Nelson, of Oakland, Hanover Co., Virginia.
14. Dr. Robert W. Nelson, of Charlottesville, Albemarle Co., Virginia.
15. Miss L. Page Nelson, of New York City.
16. Miss Fannie B. Nelson, of Yorktown, Virginia.
17. W. Steptoe Nelson, of Bedford Co., Virginia.
18. Mann Page, Esq., Lower Brandon, on James River, Virginia.
19. Legh R. Page, Esq., Richmond, Virginia.
20. John W. Page, Esq., of Petersville, Frederick Co., Maryland.
21. Peyton N. Page, Esq., of Gloucester Court House, Virginia.
22. Dr. John R. Page, University of Virginia.
23. William N. Page, Esq., of Cumberland County, Virginia.
24. John Page, Esq., Oakland, Hanover County, Virginia.
25. Miss Lucy M. F. Page, Washington City, D. C.
26. Carter H. Page, Esq., Albemarle Co., Virginia.
27. Judge John E. Page, Clarke Co., Virginia.
28. Fred. M. Page, Sewanee, Franklin Co., Tennessee.
29. John Page, Buenos Ayres, South America.
30. Samuel H. Pendleton, New York City.
31. Mrs. W. N. Pendleton, Lexington, Rockbridge Co., Virginia.
32. Mrs. D. Coupland Randolph, Cumberland Co., Virginia.
33. Francis R. Rives, Esq., New York City.
34. William C. Rives, Esq., Newport, R. I.
35. Mrs. Lucy B. P. Saunders, Washington City, D. C.
36. Stephen Tucker, Royal College of Heraldry, London.

Information in some cases was obtained from the "History of Bristol Parish," (Dinwiddie Co., Virginia,) by Rev. Philip Slaughter, of Virginia, and the "History of St. Mark's Parish," (Culpepper Co., Virginia,) by the same author.

Bishop Meade's book, entitled "Old Churches and Families of Virginia," has also been found useful, and reference to it is frequently made in the earlier portions of the genealogies of several families.

For the purpose of ascertaining the parentage of Col. John Page, progenitor of the Page family in Virginia, an exact copy of the coat-of-arms and inscription on the original tombstone was taken by John Draddy, a sculptor, of New York City, when he was at Williamsburg, Virginia, in the month of January, 1878, superin-