

John Endicott Colony of Pilgrim Fathers, Essex Lodge of Masons, and the Mass. Commandery of the Loyal Legion.

He served his city as a member of the Common Council in 1887 and 1889, and was chosen this year to the Board of Aldermen. He is the Chairman of the Committee on Water Works, and is appointed upon other important committees.

Upon the occasion of the unveiling of an elegant portrait of the late Gen. Sheridan, in the City Hall at Salem, last November, Comrade Dudley was selected to deliver the oration before the City Government.

He received a nearly unanimous election to the Salem Board of Health and is the Secretary of the Board.

In the Grand Army he is a very active member, having served Phil. H. Sheridan Post, No. 34, in various positions, including that of commander during the year 1887. He is a frequent delegate to Department Conventions, was delegate to the National Encampment at San Francisco and St. Louis, and served as Aid to Commander-in-Chief Rea in 1888 and Alger in 1890.

For two years he was the efficient President of the Essex County G. A. R. Association, and, as such, organized the successful movement for the relief of the comrades of Post 82, of Marblehead, by their fellow-comrades in this department.

At the last two reunions of the 58th Mass. Inf. Association, he was unanimously elected president.

Comrade Dudley is considered as a capital organizer, possessing superior executive ability, and as an indefatigable worker in whatever cause he assumes.

Dr. Albion M. Dudley was married on Nov. 15, 1871, at Danvers, Mass., to Miss L. Jennie Butler, daughter of John C. and Margaret Putnam Butler, of that town, his wife being a lineal descendant of the family of Gen. Israel Putnam of revolutionary fame. She died at Salem, Dec. 15, 1875, at the age of 25 years, after giving birth to a daughter, Miss Jennie Butler Dudley, now living.—G. A. R. Record.
