7TH B. EDWARD SUTTON alias DUDLEY,^s Lord Dudley, K.G., the son and heir of Sir Edmund Sutton alias Dudley, and grandson and heir of Sir John Sutton alias Dudley, K.G., had the following fifteen children :

1. JOHN,^s "Lord Quondam," successor to his father.
2. EDWARD,^s ob. s. p.
3. THOMAS,^s of whom nothing is known. He might have been ancestor of our New England Governour Dudleys, as they bore the same arms. But Mr. Grazebrook denies this.
4. ARTHUR,^s a priest, according to Harwood's History of Litchfield, was appointed a prebendary of Colwich in 1521, and of Litchfield, Nov. 29, 1531. An Arthur Dudley was incumbent of St. Michael's, Coventry, in 1537, and parson of Malpas about the same time. Perhaps they were not all the same Arthur. He succeeded Mr. Harley at Worcester, who, in 1553, was elevated to the See of Hereford, and Rev. Arthur was succeeded in 1576 by Dr. Carrington. Lord Quondam accused Rev. Arthur, about 1536, of stealing his deeds and charters and unjustly detaining them. A Mr. John Hewitt in a paper relates that the relics of St.
