L'ETOILE DU NORD is the natural organ of a population of nearly 100,000 French people in Minnesota and Wisconsin, taking an active part in politics in both States. In news it gives a complete summary from all parts of America, Canada, and France, as well as the most important events throughout the world. In literature it publishes none but the best and most recent productions of modern French authors. It is refined in its nature, being entirely free from "slangy" or immoral squibs or articles, and admitting no advertisements of an objectionable or doubtful character. It is a good family journal for those who desire to learn or are studying the French language. Its advantages as an advertising medium are eminent, for it reaches directly or indirectly nearly every French family in the two States, to which it is most especially devoted. Sample copies sent free.
