Facts for Advertisers.—There are in Mississippi about fifteen thousand persons, including superintendents, teachers, and trustees, engaged in school work. Among the trustees are merchants, lawyers, ministers, doctors and farmers. This journal circulates largely among them, and is often kept by them for reference. Horace Greeley once said that each periodical is read by an average of ten persons before it is destroyed—hence it will be seen what a large number of persons, other than regular subscribers, read this paper. Rates furnished on application.
