Green Butte Copper Company, Stables

HAER No. AK-9-D

Location: In the lower camp at Wrangell-St. Elias National Park & Preserve, McCarthy vicinity, Valdez-Cordova County, Alaska

Date of Construction: ca. 1921

Builder/Designer: Unknown

Present Use: Abandoned

Significance: Used by the Green Butte Copper Company from 1921 to 1926, this 21' 1" x 39' 10" structure with saddle-notched corners, was constructed of logs and fabric chink with a corrugated metal roof. It has a loading dock that extends the width of the building (4' 6" out). It also has two stables on the south side and four on the north, with both sides containing feed bins. A Yukon stove sits in the center portion of the west side. There is a second level in the gable, but it is only accessible from the outside.
