All Jet Propulsion Laboratory materials are in the public domain, having been completed under U.S. Government funding.

CA-163-II-1 Credit WCT. Original 4"x5" black and white negative is housed in the JPL Archives, Pasadena, California. This view shows the underfloor ductwork of Building E-46 during construction. The ductwork conducts hot or cold air to maintain required temperatures in the curing chamber (JPL negative no. 381-2569, 12 December 1962).
