HISTORIC AMERICAN BUILDINGS SURVEY

RAILEY-HALL SHED

HABS No. GA-15-C

- Location: State Highway 3/U.S. Highway 19 at Croxton Cross Road, Sumter, Georgia
- Significance: This shed is associated with the Railey-Hall House which is part of a district which comprises the core of the rural crossroads community of Sumter in Sumter County. The district contains five commercial buildings and the Railey-Hall House which is located on the west side of U.S. Highway 19. Several outbuildings and a metal windmill surround the house. The significance of the outbuildings is that they are recognizable components of a historic agricultural landscape.
- Description: The one story shed roofed structure has a single entrance with a board and batten door on the north elevation. A row of narrow, unglazed windows with a wooden shelf below is located on the western elevation. A similar shelf extends across the eastern elevation and contains small animal cages. The shed has vertical siding and a metal roof. The shed has been used as a chicken house, rabbit hutch, and a tool shed.
- History: The shed was extant in the 1920s but no date of construction could be determined.
- Sources: Information was obtained through an interview of the current owner of the property, Charlene Railey Hall.
- Historian: Sharman Southall
