

HISTORIC AMERICAN ENGINEERING RECORD

INDEX TO PHOTOGRAPHS

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD, PIER 11

On the Charlestown waterfront at the confluence of Little Mystic Channel and Mystic River, at the northernmost end of the Charlestown Navy Yard

HAER No. MA-90-68

Boston
Suffolk County
Massachusetts

Martin Stupich, Photographer, 1993, except as noted.

- MA-90-68-1 General view of Pier 11 from Building 131, view to east, with Little Mystic Channel in distance.
- MA-90-68-2 Pilings at end of Pier 11, low tide, view to north.
- MA-90-68-3 North wall of pier 11 with projecting catwalks connected to steel dry dock walls.
- MA-90-68-4 Pier detail, cast iron bollard, north side of pier, view to northwest.
- MA-90-68-5 View of industrial service building at center of pier, looking southeast with Boston in distance.
- MA-90-68-6 View of industrial service building at center of pier, looking northeast.
- MA-90-68-7 Interior view, industrial service building, showing east wall with large switch box connected to conduits buried in concrete floor; they were connected to breaker panels in center of building.
- MA-90-68-8 Interior view, industrial service building, showing breaker panels made of natural stone; four switches on each panel had been connected to box on wall by wires routed through conduit buried in concrete floor; view to northwest.
- MA-90-68-9 Historic view, Pier 11. View to southeast, showing timber degaussing pier, 1951. Photographic copy of photo. Boston National Historical Park Archives, Charlestown Navy Yard.
- MA-90-68-10 Historic view, Pier 11. Aerial view to east, 1943. Photographic copy of photo. Boston National Historical Park Archives, Charlestown Navy Yard.

INDEX TO PHOTOGRAPHS
CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD,
PIER 11
HAER No. MA-90-68 (Page 2)

- MA-90-68-11 Historic view, Pier 11. View to north, showing concrete pier under construction, 1956. Photographic copy of photo. Boston National Historical Park Archives, Charlestown Navy Yard.
- MA-90-68-12 Historic view, Pier 11. View to north, showing concrete pier under construction, 1956. Photographic copy of photo. Boston National Historical Park Archives, Charlestown Navy Yard.

