

HISTORIC AMERICAN ENGINEERING RECORD

INDEX TO PHOTOGRAPHS

HAER
VA
27-MCKEN.V.
1-

ROUTE 1 NOTTOWAY RIVER BRIDGE
U.S. Route 1 spanning Nottoway River
McKenney Vicinity
Dinwiddie County
Virginia

HAER No. VA-120

Photographer: Rob Tucher

October 1996

- | | |
|-----------|--|
| VA-120-1 | Bridge in context from north, looking south |
| VA-120-2 | Bridge in context from south, looking north |
| VA-120-3 | Approach from north, looking south |
| VA-120-4 | Approach from south, looking north |
| VA-120-5 | Deck from south end, looking north |
| VA-120-6 | Oblique view of west elevation, looking southeast |
| VA-120-7 | Oblique view of east elevation, looking southwest |
| VA-120-8 | Oblique view of west elevation, looking northeast |
| VA-120-9 | Oblique view of east elevation, looking northwest |
| VA-120-10 | Elevation of three north approach spans, looking east |
| VA-120-11 | Elevation of arch span, looking east |
| VA-120-12 | Elevation of three south approach spans, looking east |
| VA-120-13 | Oblique view of arch span east elevation, looking west-northwest |
| VA-120-14 | Oblique view of arch span east elevation and spring point piers, looking southwest |
| VA-120-15 | North abutment and first approach span pier, looking north |
| VA-120-16 | South abutment and first approach span, looking southeast |

INDEX TO PHOTOGRAPHS
ROUTE 1 NOTTOWAY RIVER BRIDGE
HAER No. VA-120 (Page 2)

- VA-120-17 Underside showing beams and arch span pier, looking south
- VA-120-18 Underside showing beams and arch span pier, looking north
- VA-120-19 Comparison of approach span pier and arch span pier, showing floor system, looking south
- VA-120-20 Third approach span, comparing pier types and showing guardrail and connection to arch spring point, looking east
- VA-120-21 Interior elevation of arch showing spandrel columns, top connections, and guardrail, looking east
- VA-120-22 Interior elevation of arch spring point, looking east
- VA-120-23 Detail of arch spring point, connections, and arch span and approach span guardrails, looking southeast
- VA-120-24 Detail of plaque, looking west

KEY TO PHOTOGRAPHS
ROUTE 1, NOTTOWAY RIVER BRIDGE
HAER No. VA-120 (Page 3)

