

Letter from Alexander Graham Bell to Gilbert Grosvenor, May 23, 1912

1331 CONNECTICUT AVENUE WASHINGTON, D. C. May 23 1912 Mr. G. H. Grosvenor,
National Geographic Society, Washington. D. C. Dear Bert & David,

I think it important that there should be a full meeting of the Executive Committee of the A.A.P. T.S.D. before the summer meeting of the Association at Providence R.I. — and the sooner the better.

Don't you think it would be a good plan to write to Dr. Crouter and try and arrange a meeting?

Mr. DeLand informs me that a prospective purchaser for the house at 1525 Thirty-fifth Street has appeared, and the man will present a formal offer in black and white of ten thousand dollars for the property.

Yours sincerely, Alexander Graham Bell
