Miss A. M. Sullivan writes under date of the 12th, inst., that she is now collecting some of Helen's letters for publication in a volume, together with other material which Helen is preparing, and asks for copies of letters including if possible, "the first letter Helen ever wrote to Dr. Bell," and furthermore, would have me ask you kindly to send her copies of any of "the letters written by Helen to Mr. and Mrs. Bell," which may have been preserved. I simply convey to you Miss Sullivan's request, asking that you communicate direct with her in regard to the matter.

Sincerely yours, The Superintendent of the Volta Bureau, John
