

Letter from H. F. Jenkins to Alexander Graham Bell, March 16, 1916

LITTLE, BROWN & COMPANY Publishers 34 BEACON STREET, BOSTON EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT March 16, 1916. Mr. Alexander Graham Bell, Washington, D. C. Dear Sir:

Your address at the Boston City Club Monday Evening aroused so much interest that I am writing you to ascertain if you would not be willing to consider writing for book publication your reminiscences. I am sure that there is a large public eagerly awaiting such a book, and we should hope to be able to offer you considerable assistance, if desired, in its preparation.

The writer of this letter expects to be in Washington March 29th, and will take the liberty of calling on you.

Yours very truly, H. F. Jenkins. not old enough too interested in future. HFJ/G
