Administrative Information

Provenance

The papers of Heinz Hartmann, psychoanalyst and author, and Dora Hartmann, psychoanalyst and educator, were given to the Library of Congress by the Sigmund Freud Archives between 1960 and 1987.

Processing History

The papers of Heinz and Dora Hartmann were arranged and described in 1986. Invitations sent to Heinz Hartmann, 1928-1931, and Hartmann's application to the University of Vienna medical faculty were added to the papers in 2002. Some folders were rearranged at that time.

Scope and Content Note

The papers of Heinz Hartmann (1894-1970) and Dora Hartmann (1902-1974) span the years 1928-1974, with the bulk of the material dated 1944-1974. The collection consists of correspondence, memoranda, reports, minutes, drafts of writings, patient files, bylaws, brochures, lists, and printed matter pertaining principally to the Hartmanns' work with the New York Psychoanalytic Institute and to Heinz Hartmann's writing and editorial projects. The papers are in English, German, French, and shorthand. They are arranged in two series as they were when received by the Library.

The Heinz Hartmann Papers include general correspondence, a subject file, writings, and a small group of miscellaneous papers. The general correspondence consists primarily of incoming correspondence and relates to Hartmann's writing and editorial projects, most notably The Psychoanalytic Study of the Child, and to his involvement in psychoanalytic organizations including the New York Psychoanalytic Institute and the International Psycho-Analytical Association. Additional material on Hartmann's organizational affiliations is located in the subject file. Prominent correspondents include Princess Marie Bonaparte, Otto Fenichel, Anna Freud, Ernst Kris, Lawrence S. Kubie, Sacha Nacht, Max Schur, and Martin H. Stein.

The writings file includes some of Hartmann's book reviews, an article on Sigmund Freud, early articles on twins, and an article on the superego coauthored with Rudolph Maurice Loewenstein. Featured in the writings file is a large assemblage of unpublished manuscripts and notes, some in shorthand, which illuminate Hartmann's influence as a discussant and training analyst on the development of psychoanalysis. Most of this material consists of Hartmann's introductions of papers given by fellow analysts and his notes from ensuing discussions. The earliest notes record in shorthand a discussion between Freud, Paul Federn, and others in 1928. The bulk of Hartmann's notes dates from 1946 to 1960.

The Dora Hartmann Papers pertain to her work with the New York Psychoanalytic Institute. Material dated 1958-1962 relates in particular to budgetary issues and her duties as the institute's treasurer. Correspondence, committee files, minutes, reports, and patient files dated after 1963 focus on her work as a training analyst and faculty adviser at the institute.
