Biography

1913 Jan 18

David Daniel Kaminiski is born in Brooklyn, New York. He is the first native-born American and the youngest of three sons born to Clara and Jacob Kaminiski, both of whom were originally from the Ukraine.

1913 Aug 29

Sylvia Fine is born in Brooklyn, New York. One of three children born to Bessie and Dr. Samuel Fine, a dentist, who coincidentally employed twelve year old David Daniel Kaminiski for a short period. David and Sylvia met briefly during this period.

1928

Fine, an excellent student, graduates from Thomas Jefferson High School at the age of fifteen. She enrolls in Hunter College (later known as Brooklyn College) to study music. Her musical skills were exhibited early on when at the age of three she discovered the piano. She began piano lessons at six years old and the study of harmony and musical theory at the age of ten. At that time, she also developed a fear of performing in front of large audiences and developed an interest for writing and composing.

1929

David Kaminiski takes on the stage name of "Danny Kaye" for his first performance as a tummler at the White Roe Lake summer resort in the Catskill Mountains in New York. As a tummler his performance was comparable to that of a jester, filling the time between acts of a show with comedy, singing, or a combination of entertainment.

1933

On a tour that included the Far East, Kaye performs a dance routine as one of the Three Terpischoreans. During this period, Kaye began to craft his double-talk, babbling, and dialect routines. He had no formal training as a actor, dancer, comedian, or singer. He merely enhanced his natural abilities as a performer and entertainer.

1937

Kaye is signed by Educational Pictures to be featured in two-reel comedies. He consequently appeared in three of these short films which were shown between feature films.

1939

Kaye and Fine meet again while working on a Max Liebman production which proved to be unsuccessful. Liebman hires Fine to write specialty material for Tamiment, a summer camp located in Pennsylvania. Kaye was also hired due to Fine's influence. During this period, Fine writes the Yiddish version of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado," "The Wolf of Wall Street," "Stanislavsky," and "Pavlowa," along with other material for Kaye which later was featured in Liebman's Broadway show, The Straw Hat Revue."

This film was not considered a success at the box office and it should be noted that this was the first film that Kaye did not perform Fine's material. Kaye becomes popular in Europe and with its royalty while on tour there.
1949	Kaye stars in his first Warner Brothers film, Inspector General. Fine's contributions to the film include "The Gypsy Drinking Song" and "Soliloquy for Three Heads". The movie was not very successful and the Kayes ended their contract with Warner Brothers and signed with 20th Century-Fox.
