DEBATE

On Mr. Randol's motion for approving...

The House then considered...

The case between the United States...

and Great Britain seems how or other...

It is not necessary to say that the...

case is incorrect. The United States...

are not the aggressor in any instance...

of the case. It is not necessary to say...

that the British government some thousands...

of vessels were the United States and...

law. The United States, prohibiting the...

importation of British merchandise...

and operating in a commercial way...

directly on Great Britain. Several...

violations of the sovereignty of the...

United States were perpetrated by British...

vessels in violation of the attacks on the...

Chesapeake since the British attack...

the President issued the proclamation...

of interdiction. Afterwards the British...

government issued their orders...

in consequence of which the American...

commerce was suspended—and at the...

same session a Congress law was enacted...

authorizing the President to suspend...

the commerce with Great Britain...

in such a manner as to suppress the...

embargo laws as they respected either...

Great Britain or France. The terms...

proposed by Great Britain and also by...

the United States are become more...

prominent.

Mr. Webster's proposition to charge...

the United States. The long...
