

DISPATCHES FROM LONDON A WEEK AGO TOLD OF THE VAST SHELL RESERVES ACCUMULATED BY THE BRITISH MUNITION FACTORIES, BUT SO FAR AS KNOWN, NO PHOTOGRAPHS OTHER THAN THOSE HERE REPRODUCED HAVE BEEN ALLOWED TO REACH THIS COUNTRY, GIVING PICTORIAL EVIDENCE OF THE SUPPLY AWAITING SHIPMENT TO THE FRONT. (Photo © American Press Assn.)

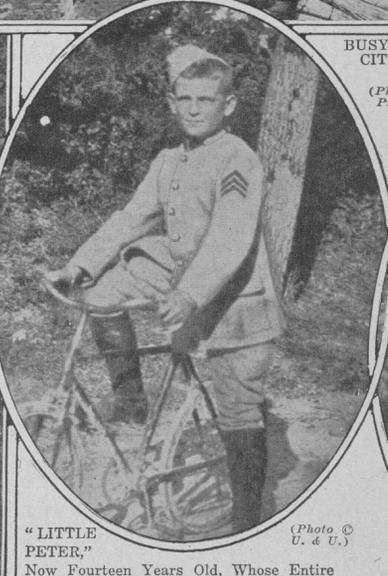

BRITISH, ENGAGED IN THE GERMAN EAST AFRICAN CONQUEST, LANDING A MILITARY AEROPLANE ON MAFIA ISLAND, ONE OF THE ZANZIBAR GROUP, WHICH HAD BEEN ASSIGNED TO GERMAN INFLUENCE. (Photo by C. N. P. S.)

BUSY SCENE ON THE PIERS AT BORDEAUX, THAT CITY HAVING NOW BECOME THE COMMERCIAL PORT OF ENTRY OF FRANCE. (Photo from Press Illus. Co.)

Ambulance Drivers of the New York Stock Exchange Section of the American Ambulance Field Service Assembled at the Field Service Headquarters, 21 Rue Raymond, Paris, Just Before the Departure of the Section for Saloniki. In the Group, Left to Right, Seated, Are: Edmund D. Fryer, Bruce K. McClure, Robert W. Lester, Wm. D. Swan, Selden W. Senter, Walter H. Lillie. Standing: Gordon Ware, Russell L. Willard, Robert W. Wood, Frank Fitzsimmons, Joseph Richardson, Sidney Howard, Mark V. Brennan, George Lebon, Henry A. Batchelor, Kimberly Stuart, Alfred M. Brace, Francis P. Kendall, Gordon K. MacKenzie, Philip N. Rhineland, Gerard Gignoux, and Henry M. Suckley, Commander.

"LITTLE PETER," Now Fourteen Years Old, Whose Entire Family, Including Father and Mother, Are Said to Have Perished in the Second Month of the War, Is in His Third Year in the French Army, as the Chevrons on His Arm Indicate. (Photo © U. & U.)

KING ALBERT OF THE BELGIANS Wearing the New Uniform and Steel Helmet With Which the Reorganized Belgian Army Is Now Equipped. (Photo from I. F. S.)