A French army bakery delivering bread to one of the supply stations near the front.

Exclusive photograph, taken by offici al photographers of the French army and published by special arrange ment with the Minister of War.