

Not a taxi garage, but a scene in a French tank factory. These Renault whippet tanks played an important part in the Allied victory on the French front since their first fighting appearance, last May. Manned only by driver and machine gunner, they are light, flexible of movement and easily transported to the needed points on army camions. Keystone View

Remarkable deep sea diving machine perfected by W. D. Sisson, of New York, for raising torpedoed vessels and salvaging sunken treasure. It sinks to great depth with perfect safety to those on board, and is manœuvred almost as easily as a U-boat. Williams Service

Built like a limousine (chauffeur out in front and passengers safely under cover), it is nevertheless the latest thing in speed boats—Nokomis, Jr., new type of pleasure craft, which carried off honors at the recent motorboat regatta at Miami, Fla. Central News

It's not somebody's knitting, but King's Princess, weight one and one-half pounds, and the smallest Yorkshire dog at the Westminster Kennel Dog Show, held the past week at Madison Square Garden. Paul Thompson

Mayor Ole Hanson of Seattle, with Mrs. Hanson and their nine children. American families like this one are the country's strongest bulwark against Bolshevism. Mayor Hanson has been called the Theodore Roosevelt of the West.
