

The above etching by Louis Orr was shown at the Spring Salon in Paris and was made at the request of Marshal Petain for the Louvre Gallery. Mr. Orr, who is a native of Hartford, has been given the Legion of Honor, rank of Knight, by the French government in recognition of his work as one of the official etchers of war scenes. New York is to see a full exhibition of his work this winter. Just a year ago last month Marshal Petain made solemn entry into Strasbourg.

The French enter Strasbourg

November 25, 1918

of "Vive la France!" was heard everywhere. The entire people expressed their joy at being united with the motherland and affirmed to the world the unshaken attachment of Alsace to France.

the capital of Alsace-Lorraine, at the head of the troops of the army of General Gouraud. He was received with enthusiastic acclamations and as the French regiments marched into the noble Alsatian city, which was magnificently adorned with the national colors, the cry

