

MEN OF A BRITISH WARSHIP, NOW IN THE DARDANELLES, GROUPED ABOUT A GASH IN THE SHIP'S DECK MADE BY A TURKISH SHELL
(Photos © by American Press Assn.)

BRITISH MARINES ON THE SHORE OF THE DARDANELLES EXCITE THE INTEREST OF THE NATIVES

BRITISH MARINES, LANDING ON THE GALLIPOLI PENINSULA TAKE THEIR BAGGAGE WITH THEM

SEAPLANE BEING TOWED TO ONE OF THE ALLIED WARSHIPS IN THE DARDANELLES AFTER A SCOUTING TRIP OVER TURKISH FORTIFICATIONS
(Photo from Underwood & Underwood.)

BRITISH MARINES MAKING A TOUR OF A WELL-NIGH DESERTED TURKISH VILLAGE ON THE DARDANELLES