

FRENCH POILUS, TO ITALY'S DEFENSE, CHATTING WITH ITALIAN MAIDENS BY THE LAKE OF GARDA.

SCENE IN THE COURTYARD OF AN ITALIAN FARMHOUSE WHERE FRENCH AND BRITISH ARMY KITCHENS HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED.

FRENCH ALPINE TROOPS MARCHING THROUGH VERONA ON THEIR WAY TO REINFORCE THE ITALIAN ARMIES ON THE PIAVE FRONT.

THE PIGEONS OF VENICE, UNTERFIERED BY THE ROAR OF DISTANT CANNON, HAVE NOT FOLLOWED MUCH OF THE CITY'S POPULATION INTO REFUGE, BUT THEY HAVE RECEIVED FEWER ATTENTIONS THIS YEAR THAN FOR MANY YEARS PAST, AND SWARM ABOUT THEIR BRITISH DEFENDERS TO BE FED.

GENERAL
FAYOLLE,
Commander of the

(Photos by French
Pictorial Service.)

French Forces in Italy, at His Desk, in Consultation With General d'Ayugon.