

With the British troops in Mesopotamia—Turkish ration barges captured by the British at Ramadie.
British Official Underwood & Underwood.

Turkish shell dug-out after being hit by the British gunners.
British Official Underwood & Underwood.

Gurkhas, Indian Infantry attached to the British army in Mesopotamia, at an advanced line of trenches captured from the Turks.
British Official Underwood & Underwood.

A Red Cross ambulance, drawn by mules, moving through a gully in Palestine.
British Official Underwood & Underwood.

British officer of the Royal Army Medical Corps giving water to a wounded Turk at an advanced dressing station in Mesopotamia.
British Official Underwood & Underwood.