

In the region of Messines Ridge, where heavy fighting has been going on since the Germans launched their attack.

British Official, Underwood & Underwood

New Zealand soldiers and a British officer in the main street of Jericho, now occupied by British forces.

Egyptian Official, Underwood & Underwood.

British troops rescuing valuable sacred pictures from a destroyed church in Armentieres before enemy shells could cause further damage.

British Official, Underwood & Underwood.

A French and an American soldier at the grave of a lieutenant of the 149th United States Artillery who was killed on the Lorraine front last month.

Kadel & Herbert

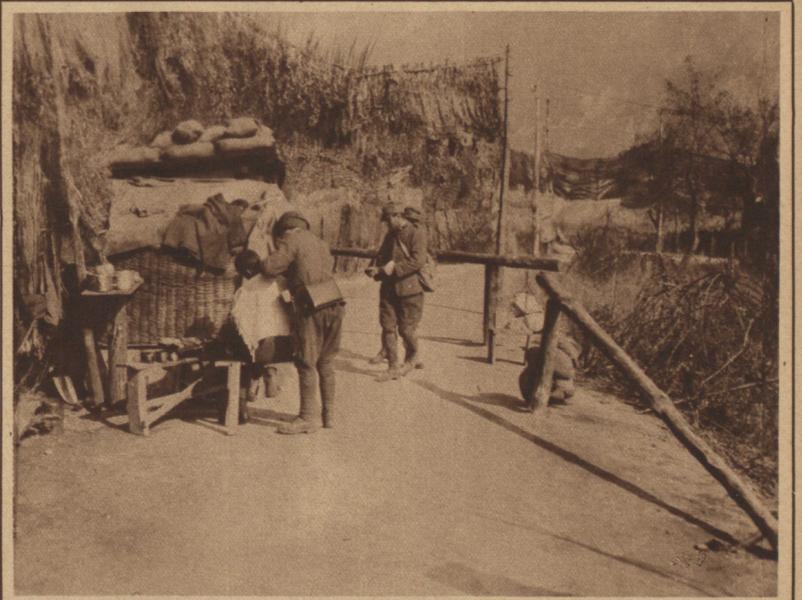

Red Cross men transferring wounded on to a light railway preparatory to removing them to the rear. This method is a great boon to the men and saves much time and pain.

British Official, Underwood & Underwood.

The commander of a battalion inspects an advanced position on the Italian front.

Dr. V. Buffa.

Near the first line on the Italian front the barber improvises a salon on the roadway.

Dr. V. Buffa.