American artillery going into action. French Pictorial Service.

An American army surgeon examining the wounded in a hospital train. Bain News Service

At the left—Admiral Sims, displaying top-season form, pitches the first ball in a game between U. S. Army and Navy teams at Highbury, England. After the Admiral had gone to the bench, however, the Army won. The Canadians, above, in the bleachers, seem only mildly interested. Western Newspaper Union.

The American band follows the flag. French Official.

Four American heroes about to receive the French military cross. Kadel & Herbert.